Few performers can boast a set list as impressive as Randy Bachman and Burton Cummings. Collectively and individually, Bachman-Cummings' catalogue is the envy of every artist. The Guess Who, Bachman-Turner Overdrive, Burton Cummings solo; together theirs is the Great Canadian Songbook.

These Eyes, Laughing, Undun, No Time, American Woman, No Sugar Tonight, Hand Me Down World, Share The Land, Albert Flasher, Glamour Boy, Star Baby, Clap For The Wolfman, Let It Ride, Takin' Care Of Business, You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet, Hey You, Looking Out For #1, Stand Tall, I'm Scared, My Own Way To Rock, Break It To Them Gently, Fine State of Affairs, You Saved My Soul – and that's only some of the dozens of gold and platinum hits between them. Bachman Cummings wrote the soundtrack to the last 40 years of our lives.

Members of the Canadian Music Hall of Fame, Canadian Songwriters Hall of Fame, Canadian Broadcasters Hall of Fame, the Canadian Walk of Fame, the first ever inductees into the Prairie Music Hall of Fame, recipients of the Order of Canada, the Order of Manitoba, the Governor-General's Performance Arts Award and several Broadcast Music Industry awards for over 1 million airplays, Randy Bachman and Burton Cummings are Canadian rock 'n' roll royalty.

After the breakup of Guess Who, Randy Bachman and Burton Cummings enjoyed illustrious solo careers and side projects that heralded further praise and a greater legion of followers. The phenomenal success of the Guess Who reunion in 2000 propelled Bachman Cummings to finally begin performing under their names in 2005.

“We’re the two guys who wrote and sang these songs and I think people know that and want to hear the real thing. Bachman Cummings are out there delivering that,” says Burton. “Not all artists are lucky enough to have this kind of staying power. Randy and I are able to touch Guess Who, BTO and Cummings solo stuff. We still have an audience that wants to hear those songs done by the original guys.”

With a concert packed full of all their best-known songs, fans and reviews have been nothing less than ecstatic about the latest tour. Cummings’ voice is razor-sharp and Bachman’s guitar licks have only improved with age, along with the charisma, enthusiasm and talent of Canada’s groundbreaking rockers.

Don’t miss Bachman Cummings when they take the stage at the K-ROCK Centre in Kingston on August 8th, 2009.
